

Bar trimming

At the bottom picture the hoof is cut after the red dotted line. The blue markings on the top pictures marks the area that is supposed to be trimmed away as shown on the bottom picture. I do not recommend anyone to start experimenting with bar trimming on living horses with this sheet as the only guideline.

Piece of the bar that has been trimmed away to remove the excess part of the bar and create an end that is perpendicular to the side.

Thickness of the bar.
